

Facets is a creative investigation that invites viewers to experience our city through the eyes of artists. Fayetteville does not have a singular identity; it is a community of coming and going, old and new, exciting movement and reflective pause. The artworks in this rotating exhibit encompass the ever-changing aspects of Fayetteville while embracing the connections that unite us all.

The first rotation, Multi (Mixed Media), features artists from Fayetteville and surrounding areas whose pieces blend materials, meanings, and memories to explore themes of connection, heritage, and lived experience. Paintings, collages, textiles, sculptures, and digital media reflect the community's grit, movement, and layered identity. The second rotation, Reality in Totality (Photography) positions photography as both a mirror and a map, capturing moments, connections, and revealing the unseen. This collection showcases regional photographers whose work speaks to everyday life, the weight of history, and the personal narratives that shape Fayetteville's community. Together, these rotating exhibitions transform the Fayetteville Regional Airport from a point of departure into a space for reflection, connection, and artistic appreciation.

ABOUT THE ARTS COUNCIL'S EXHIBITION

The Arts Council of Fayetteville/Cumberland County is proud to present ongoing exhibition opportunities at the Fayetteville Regional Airport, a dynamic public space that welcomes thousands of travelers each month. Our exhibits aim to celebrate the creativity and cultural richness of our region by showcasing diverse works from artists across all disciplines and career stages. These exhibitions reflect our commitment to presenting high-quality, accessible art experiences in unexpected places, connecting residents and visitors alike to the power of the arts. Through thoughtfully curated displays, we seek to highlight the stories, perspectives, and artistic excellence that define our creative community.

ABOUT THE FAYETTEVILLE REGIONAL AIRPORT

As a proud gateway to our community, Fayetteville Regional Airport offers travelers a welcoming and convenient experience rooted in Southern hospitality. Serving as a hub for both business and leisure travel, the airport connects passengers to major destinations while showcasing the unique character of Fayetteville and Cumberland County. With recent upgrades and ongoing investments in passenger services, our terminal also serves as a platform for local culture, highlighting the talent, diversity, and creativity that make our region special. We're excited to collaborate with the Arts Council to bring inspiring, locally curated exhibitions to our space and to share the spirit of Fayetteville with every traveler who passes through.

ABOUT THE CURATOR:

Collyn Strother, a Fayetteville native and curator with experience presenting exhibitions and projects across the region, including work with the Arts Council of Fayetteville | Cumberland Co.
and Gallery13. Facets celebrates the city that shaped me, highlighting the talent, stories, and perspectives of local artists.

Like the many faces of a gem, each rotation reveals a different facet of our community's identity, its culture, history, and creativity, showing how individual narratives come together to form a vibrant, connected whole. Through two six-month rotations, the exhibition explores the layers that make Fayetteville a dynamic and evolving place, inviting both local residents and traveling viewers to engage with the city and its artists in a meaningful way.
